Emotional impulses heavily influence the behavior of customers. Sensory marketing establishes an emotional connection between the company and the customers, thus yielding a positive response towards the brand. It has a strong influence not only on the perceptions but also on the choices of the customers. It assists the organizations in delivering a unique multisensory experience and capitalizes on new marketing opportunities. Therefore, businesses should carefully formulate sensory marketing strategies revolving around the details of offered product mix, prospective modes of communication, as well as point-of-sale actions. Promoting Consumer Engagement Through Emotional Branding and Sensory Marketing provides strategies for approaching customers through their senses to better formulate effective sensory tactics. It strengthens the research in communicating brand image, enhancing brand recognition, generating brand loyalty, and increasing brand appeal through sensory marketing. Covering topics such as customer engagement, brand experience, and service quality, this premier reference source is an indispensable resource for business leaders and executives, marketing professionals, brand specialists, students and faculty of higher education, librarians, researchers, and academicians.

The authors introduce the concept of finitely coloured equivalence for unital -homomorphisms between -algebras, for which unitary equivalence is the -coloured case. They use this notion to classify -homomorphisms from separable, unital, nuclear -algebras into ultrapowers of simple, unital, nuclear, -stable -algebras with compact extremal trace space up to -coloured equivalence by their behaviour on traces; this is based on a -coloured classification theorem for certain order zero maps, also in terms of tracial data. As an application the authors calculate the nuclear dimension of non-AF, simple, separable, unital, nuclear, -stable -algebras with compact extremal trace space: it is 1. In the case that the extremal trace space also has finite topological covering dimension, this confirms the remaining open implication of the Toms-Winter conjecture. Inspired by homotopy-rigidity theorems in geometry and topology, the authors derive a “homotopy equivalence implies isomorphism” result for large classes of -algebras with finite nuclear dimension.

\"One of the first great events in Christian history was the Council of Nicaea in 325 AD, convened to organize Christian sects and beliefs into a unified doctrine. The great Christian clergymen who wrote before this famous event are referred to as the Ante-Nicenes and the Apostolic Fathers, and their writings are collected here in a ten-volume set. The Ante-Nicenes lived so close to the time of Christ that their interpretations of the New Testament are considered more authentic than modern voices. But they are also real and flawed men, who are more like their fellow Christians than they are like the Apostles, making their words echo in the ears of spiritual seekers. In Volume VI of the 10-volume collected works of the Ante-Nicenes first published between 1885 and 1896, readers will find the writings of: Gregory Thaumaturgus Dionysius, pope of Alexandria Julius Africanus, a Christian historian who wrote a history of the world from Creation to 221 bishops Antolius of Constantinople, Archelaus of Carchar, and Peter of Alexandria Alexander of Cappadocia, bishop of Jerusalem until he was taken prisoner by the Romans Theognostus, Pierius, and Thenas of Alexandria Phileas, a philosopher from Thmuis Pamphilus, patron of the library at Caesarea Malchion, a rhetorician from Antioch Alexander, bishop of Alexandria, who drew up the Acts during the Council of Nicaea the martyr Methodius Arnobius, an early Christian apologist"
